

New Earth, New Life Anchoring

This next phase of work being channelled and anchored will usher in the energies for the New Earth, New Life grids being accessed and anchored on Saturday 29 September. The date has specifically been set because of all the other levels of energy at play on that day that are needed to properly ground what we need individually, collectively and planetarily.

I am Kuthumi and I come forward upon the rays of love and wisdom to greet each of you at this time and to bring unto you the blessings of trust, protection, synchronicity and divine inspiration. Greetings beloved ones.

And it is with great joy and pleasure in our hearts that we may gather with each of you upon this day as we hold you firmly within the heart of Christ and securely upon the hands of God.

Beloved ones you have gathered at a time where there are many energies at play. Each of these energies influencing you on many levels. Each level that you are experiencing an influence upon is pulling you in a direction, one that is leading you down the pathway of complete and total soul liberation. For eons of time humanity has played out the game of self sacrifice. You have experienced many cycles of mastering self doubt, mastering self rejection, self hate, and many other such qualities. This is now the opportunity to embrace yourself on a new level and experience the new level of life which is being offered to you within a package called 'the new earth new life'. You have witnessed how humanities insecurities and separation from love has created a world of deprivation. A world that sorely lacks the qualities that are considered godlike or goddess like. Today's particular activation of grids requires of you the vigilance in terms of asserting yourself, asserting your Will, and saying no to those aspects of your lower ego that insist on keeping you trapped in the quagmire of old consciousness. Everything within you and around you, is changing. And any part of you or any aspect of you representing the old will be transmuted. Right now most of you, are experiencing more of the light qualities than you are the dark. Dark being negativity, or plain simply the absence of love. Where there is fear, love is lacking. So your personal fears are calling to you, for love. Now love is very limited in terms of what you understand the definition to be and this journey that all of you are embarking upon is a lesson in love, divine love, unconditional love, in fact all facets of love that exist. You have been exposed to conditional love, primarily, you have experienced some levels of unconditional love with people in your life but, the majority of your experience of love, has been conditional. These conditions are being disintegrated at this time for the matrix of conditional love has already been dismantled to a large extent. Some of you are probably aware of the fact that there are just a few aspects of your life experience that appear to be holding you back and those aspects are what embody conditional love. Conditional love is a label, yet it consists of many of your greatest challenges. In fact conditional love is what has created some of your greatest wounds. Your life experience has revealed to you, and perhaps for some of you this will be a new insight, but your past experience has revealed to you that you have attracted into your life the people who reflect your greatest pain, your darkest negativity, your worst fears and your greatest wounds. Think about it. Think about some of the people that you have attracted into your life that you have had immense challenges with and what they have supposedly done to you. No-one has done anything to you. The only thing that has ever happened is that you have brought upon yourself that which you believed you deserved. On a subconscious level, most of the time. Were you to accept the fact that you have attracted that to you because of your beliefs you are in that instant empowered because no longer are you giving your power away to a person or a situation that you have been holding onto, because oh my goodness, poor you, you were abused, you were betrayed, not to say that there is no sympathy or empathy for anyone who has experienced that. What we are saying is that record has now played itself to its end. You are now stepping into a new story where you are changing the course of your life, by saying goodbye to your history, by putting an end to the process of recreating your history, based on those attachments to people and events, that caused wounds in your life. Let me put it this way. As long as you choose to wallow in self pity or any other victim consciousness you will not experience the levels of freedom and soul liberation you yearn for. It is your responsibility and only your responsibility to change the course of your life by changing your perceptions of your reality.

The new earth is a place in which you can and will thrive. New life is literally that. New life. The opportunity to experience life like you have never experienced it before. Therefore there are new beginnings, new opportunities currently making its way toward you of epic proportions. New opportunities that will change your life forever and the only thing standing between you and the 'new earth new life' gifts is your lower ego, your attachments to your wounds, your self pity, your lack of self acceptance, your lack of self worth and any other aspect lacking love. Yes it is easier said than done, but for how long are you going to buy into that! Sometimes, if not every time, it is only your belief in the fact that it is easier said than done, that makes it difficult. Remember these words now. The lower ego complicates and the soul simplifies. So when you find yourself facing complications you are dealing with the lower ego aspect of whatever the situation is, being it the people in the group or the person you are interacting with or the energy that is feeding that particular creation. You are in a position and have the power to ensure that your life can be simplified to such a degree that the work of Spirit, God, whoever it is, that you relate to, can flow through you freely.

This does not ever mean that your lessons will come to an end, but as I have said before, the manner in which you master your lessons is more simplified, and you are able to extract that wisdom a lot quicker than the past or when you choose to react from that place of fear based lower ego belief systems. So what you as a group and individuals are currently experiencing today is the onset of one of the greatest waves of change to grace humanity. It is a tidal wave of new energy that will literally wash through all the fears and every single attachment the lower ego insists on hanging onto, therefore every person, every community, every country, every business, group whatever it is that comes together, will experience the foundations being washed away, if those foundations insist on remaining in the old paradigm.

Beloved ones this is certainly not a threat, it is a fact. It is happening. You have already experienced it and will continue to experience it. The difference is that the intensity of this energy is 200,000 times more intense than the energies you experienced as little as 6 months ago. The reason why these energies have intensified to the degree that they have is because your time has sped up and there are more and more souls requesting liberation from the old paradigm, and of that group of souls, yours was a voice, your soul requested exactly that, which is why you are here today. And every soul who makes the same choice in the future will come to hear these words. So, in order to fully experience the new earth and new life, you need to choose, choose between the old way of living, reacting, blaming, withdrawing and withholding life, energy, information, whatever it may be, for fear of it being taken away from you, for fear of going without, lack and loss.

The energy that is coming to earth and to every single one of you, on an individual and collective basis is coming to serve the greater good of the whole and those of you who are being called to service, to serve humanity, it is your responsibility, to share what you are given. To share the wisdom, to share the love. And wherever there are barriers placed around that love and wisdom, I assure you, it will be torn down. This is not a timeline for barriers and defences. And I can tell you, this is probably the most important challenge for humanity, is because you guard and protect your wounds, you hold onto all the defence mechanisms that will ensure you are never exposed to any level of pain again, accepting, not only does it protect you or shield you from negativity, it also isolates you, isolates you from love, from life, and you end up lonely, miserable, bitter and resentful. Is there anyone in this room today who would like that as their future? Is there anyone present who would like to imagine that that be their future or even entertain the idea that that is the future? So then, take up your sword of truth, slice through the chords that attach you to that which creates limitation and isolation in your life and make a choice today. A choice that empowers you and opens the pathways to soul liberation for you, like you have never experienced before. And today you will say yes to your soul choosing life, your soul choosing the gifts of the new earth which are new life.

Every one of you are messengers of the divine word. You are messengers of Divine Light, you are the movement of light which embody the most powerful love you could ever imagine experiencing. And I speak not of just romantic love. I speak of a love far greater than you have ever experienced. A love that is all consuming, that when you tap into it, it feels as if your own skin will burst open because you cannot contain it and the only way to manage it is by giving it out. Share it with all of those around you. Imagine feeling that level of love not only for those whom you love, but that level of love for humanity, for everything that is a part of you, seen and unseen, it is that love that becomes the tidal wave bringing cleansing, bringing the transmutations all of you have prayed for.

Right now there are three specific grids, which are like blankets around your planet. These grids are filtering all of the energies that impact on your base chakra, your sacral chakra and your solar plexus, within the physical realm of your physical life. These grids are also influencing the 12 chakra system which all of you will be operating from, in a very short space of time, that's if some of you are not there already. You will experience higher levels of sensitivity to the two worlds, the old paradigm and the new paradigm. The 12 chakras amplify everything that you are experiencing, for a very good reason because it brings that sense of awareness that was lacking previously. When you are aware of the different worlds and how the old world affected you and how the new world is being created, you are in a conscious position to make decisions to enhance the creations of this new space, this new time, the new world that you have called into manifestation.

The millions of light workers on your planet which include all of you, has brought this about. Without your choice to move beyond the old paradigms, this would not have happened. Now there are choices available to humanity that serve every level of consciousness. In the past it was mainly the lower levels of consciousness that impacted on everyone. You were dealing with a very dense third dimensional reality. The astral plane is what fed your energy field. This is what has created many of the fear based stories that you buy into. I have said this before and for those of you who have heard these words, please bear with me, because there are others that will benefit from this, but I must tell you something, the belief in Satan or the devil, is an illusion. It is a creation that you have adopted and accepted as being a reality. The role that the fallen angel Lucifer played ended a long time ago. But it is humanities belief systems and perceptions that have kept that story playing over and over again. Tell me, what is the benefit of indulging in such a destructive belief system. How does it benefit humanity in any way to fear the devil, to fear Lucifer, Satan whatever name it is used. What is the benefit of keeping humanity in fear? What does it do to serve the greater good? And when I speak of the greater good, I speak of the vibrations of love that empower individuals, communities and nations.

The fear based grids of two and a half thousand years ago, some came in before that, need not be a part of your reality any longer. Think about the stories you have bought into. Think about the myths, think about the fears that govern you on a daily basis and ask yourself, how real are they? Where do they come from? And what good are they doing you? Your ego's role is to keep you safe. That is your survival instinct. Fight, fright and flight. Your lower ego was manipulated, real good! To such an extent that it is the governing force in your life, and everything in your external environment continues to feed the fears of your lower ego.

This wave that is coming that I speak of, as a result of the grids today, will also challenge you to be highly aware of how the controlling forces of negativity are constantly trying to lure you into their webs. It is in your face all the time beloved ones, and your advertising and media are key players in it. On a subconscious level you are intimidated and overpowered by this propaganda. And you are in a position to shield yourself to all of this and choose to focus mainly on anchoring light. You are already on the road to experiencing what the new earth will be all about. The new earth is the world where Light reflects Light. Where every aspect of power in its light source and form will be reflected. And it is those of you who choose to live within the realms of the new earth consciousness, that will free the rest of the world from the old paradigm. But you need to master first what you will then teach. So over the next 18 months you'll see many changes manifesting on a personal level as well as in communities, groups, organisations, business, and nations.

There are three major portals coming up beloved ones, 2010, 2011, and 2012. These major portals will come about as a result of the ascension wave that is already beginning, which will come to its apex in December 2008. You are in a position to relieve yourself of all the density that you have carried from your past life by this I mean the old paradigm, the life you are leaving behind. This is a time when you need to sit with yourself, to examine every aspect of your being, because the 12 chakras are like amplifiers, which will make it impossible for you to step into any programme related to denial. This is the time of facing yourself head on and embracing all the light aspects of yourself and forgiving or releasing those aspects of self that represent the old way. Each of you are a leader in your own right. I've always said there is only one way to lead and that is by example. There is never any other way. This is your time to shine, this is your time to choose your Self, to choose love and every single quality of life, so I ask you now to close your eyes please.

Begin by taking a deep breath in through your nose and exhaling through your mouth. Relax the muscles of your body. Take a moment now to think about your old life, your past life. This may take you back to your teenage years or even younger, perhaps your early twenties. Think back to the times when you felt limitation, inhibition, confusion, shame and fear. Notice how your body reacts, your emotions change when you think back to those times, and I ask you now again, is this what you are going to choose for your future? Is this the quality energy you want influencing your future creations? If it is then by all means continue with your drama.

If not, you now have the power to step away from that, once and for all. Many of you have stepped away from a great deal of it, today is your final crossing over, the final step into 'the new earth new life' paradigm.

Now I want you to start focussing on everything that inspires you, think about the things that give you joy, the people who you love and who love you. Imagine all the things that represent freedom, peace and harmony for you. I want you now to evoke the full power and presence of your liberated Self. Open yourself to welcome that part of you who has achieved complete soul liberation and who is thriving in 'the new earth new life' grids. While you do this, the 12 chakras of your current spiritual system begin igniting like brilliant flames of light and as each flame ignites, it grows brighter with every new hope, new wish and choice to be motivated by love. Keep focussing on that energy. I will now step aside and Mary Magdalene will come through to continue this journey. Keep focussing on the Light.

I am Mary Magdalene. Welcome into this world, of new Light, a world where you are the co-creator, a world in which you have been called into. You are the leaders of this great new world and I have come in service to each of you, to assist you in crystallising all of these energies. Before we continue please will you invoke the power, the light, the love and presence of your personal guides, masters and governors.

Feel the energy vibrations rise as all these grand beings of Divine Love gather with us today. All the Lords and the Ladies of the Divine worlds of Light, empowerment, love, wisdom and truth are gathering around us. The Elohim of grace, the Elohim of divinity, the Elohim of honour, integrity, truth and justice, gather with us now. The Great White Brotherhood and The Great White Sisterhood, the Council of Freedom, and the Grand Master of all that is, with his feminine counterpart now stand within our presence.

Move your attention to your heart chakra. Feel this chakra opening like a flower greeting the rays of the sun. And feel the love from your unseen supporters filling you through this chakra. Feel the energy of their love, their wisdom, their support, their grace and their unconditional acceptance of you, enfolding you. As you are wrapped up in this blanket of energy, so it begins to expand and becomes a spiral galaxy around you. And this galaxy is filled with many forms of new life. This is the galaxy known as You.

I want you to just listen to the tone of my voice as you are now carried through the realms of light, into the expanded worlds of divine love, the world of power, of wisdom and unconditional love. Feel the cells of your body opening to receive the gentle caress of these energies. As each energy flows into the cells of your body, it moves into the molecules, it moves into the atoms. Your DNA is vibrating in response to this new energy. All the cells of mother earth's body begin to respond. Her DNA, the molecules and atoms of her being, responding in unison with you, to receive, to choose this power, a power that is yours by divine right, a power that shall lead you into the realms of peace, harmony, abundance, magic and miracles.

Breathe in deeply, opening your chakras to receive this energy and codings. Open your heart to receive more of this divine light and the divine love. Now turn your palm chakras up to receive. Draw this energy into your body. As your energy expands, so the energy of your 12 chakra system is activated beyond the earth plane. Each template of the 12 chakras is expanded to unite with the 44th universe, the realm where all the new structures of divinity are created and where the structures of that divinity now become a part of your blueprint. As you are receiving through your left palm, we ask you to turn your right palm down, and as you receive, the energy moves through you, and you give to mother earth. And so it is, that which is in heaven, becomes one with the earth. Divine souls, you are the manifestation of the vessels through which the divinity of heaven becomes one with earth. You are the keys to the worlds of freedom in all its forms and in whatever form it represents itself in your life.

Breathe in deeply expanding your energy field even further and all those beings who are currently present with us all open their heart's chakra extending the divine love of the universe and the grand master and that of his feminine counterpart to embrace you and so the three grids of the new world are absorbed into your heart chakra. Their energy extending into your solar plexus, then into your sacral chakra, and into your base chakra, the energy moves down the meridian of your legs, and into the chakra's of the soles of your feet and into mother earth's flesh.

Over the next three hours this energy will increase in its intensity and vibration adding to your energy another 33,000 systems of light. The 33,000 systems of light are linked to the higher universal dimensional energies. This raises the vibration that your lower ego has been accustomed to functioning within, to a new level. It is through this new system that you will be introduced to the new life you have chosen. Through this contributing to the creations of the new earth, you, divine ones, are the creators of the world that shall come into being after 2011. You are the ones joined by your fellow brothers and sisters all over the world who are ensuring that the old paradigm does not bleed into the new one and become the theme of consciousness yet again. So your responsibility is the most important to yourself for in the complete healing and liberation of yourself you liberate humanity.

I ask you now to turn the chakras of your hands onto your heart chakra. Begin to fill your heart chakra with love for yourself. Begin by acknowledging that you are a divine manifestation of the breathe of Father/Mother God. You are one aspect of the mighty presence of all that is. Therefore you are all of that and more. Acknowledge to yourself how much courage it has taken for you to master what you have mastered. Acknowledge how much you truly loved humanity, that is evident because you are on earth again. And it is only a being filled with an extraordinary capacity to love that could return to a dimension as dense as earth and overcome what you have overcome, to master what you have mastered in order to show mass consciousness the road to freedom. Take some of the love that you feel for those whom you love most and turn it on yourself. It is the self love that shall keep the grids of the new earth fully active. It is self love that shall overflow into unconditional love for everyone else around you, that will keep the gates to heaven open. And the gates to heaven are not something up in the sky. The gates to heaven are in fact on earth. There have been many powerful men and women who walked the earth before you did. Some of them were you! Why do you think such beings of immense power would do such a thing as come to a place filled with such hostility and density. They seeded the earth just like you do. Every step you take plants a seed upon mother earth's body. Everything you say to another is a seed planted within their heart and within their mind. The hostility inside of you is not natural. Loving is natural. It is from this energy that you were created.

Breathe in deeply and as you exhale move your hand chakras to your solar plexus. And fill this chakra with the same love you filled your heart with. All the angles of your power are now drawn into alignment with the divine grids of the 44th universe and every single blueprint of every single being of power who walked the earth before you. All the seeds that the earth was encoded with, you have access to and that is what you will begin accessing from this day forward. All of you have been assigned with specific tasks in service to self and therefore to humanity. These seeds will now take roots within the physical world and will spurt forth as powerful trees of life, of knowledge and wisdom, from which humanity will be sustained. For it is the fruit from these trees that will feed them and you are that fruit! For it is your gems of wisdom, and knowledge that becomes the sustenance humanity now needs in order for them to make the final crossing. Feel the power of the almighty presence emerging inside of your solar plexus. You are now naturally powerful. And you know exactly what to do to empower yourself and humanity. Your period of forgetfulness is now fast coming to its end. While you concentrate on your solar plexus just listen to my words.

‘You are a divine manifestation of the divine essence of the Holy Mother and the Holy Father. Your chakras carry the blue print of each of them. The earth was seeded with your energy because you were entrusted with the role to liberate humanity. You have returned at this volatile time in earth's spiritual history, in earth's physical and economic history, to bring about changes that have never been witnessed in such a dense realm before. You are masters embodying light who are ready to remember the power inside of you. You are beings in a physical body, who know exactly what is needed at this time. Your confusion is an illusion. Your fears are an illusion. You are precisely in the place you need to be for it is where you are now that your energy is needed most. You do not need to be a saint, you do not need to be a healer to weave the magic of spirit. You are in a variety of walks of life for the reason that it will bring the light to all places. You are remembering, you will continue to remember, your body knows the truth, your authentic self is pushing through the veils of illusion revealing its power to you and it is safe for you to step in to the skin of your authentic self. Lead by example. Free your self by surrendering to that power. Let go of any need to hold onto anything that causes disharmony, limitation or pain.

Breathe in gently as you move your hand chakras to your sacral chakra, and as you do this you embrace the love of our Divine Mother. This is the receptacle of life, the Holy Grail, the place in which all divine love from our sacred mother is fed into you. Your sacral chakra is your water element. It is the chakra that governs your emotional body. Allow the energy to flow, for when you block your emotions, when you deny your truth or when you fight and resist that which chooses to come forth, your water element freezes, it becomes stagnant, and you are left in a state of isolation (ice-olation). When your sacral chakra is blocked, your base chakra is deprived of the energy it requires to ground everything you need in your physical reality on earth. Your sacral chakra is your feminine power. It is the creative force of the divine mother working through you, and when you reject her, you reject life. You reject your power and ability to attract to yourself everything you need to ensure that you are physically and materially taken care of. The Holy Grail is a receptacle of energy that is in a state of endless creation. It is meant to overflow, for it is the overflow that helps those who have not reached the same levels of realisation that ones such as yourselves have. Denying yourself your right to love, to receive and to give, deprives everyone. When you deprive yourself, you deprive our cosmic parents of your love. You turn your back on their support and no matter how loud they knock on the door of your heart you will not hear them because you are frozen in time, in the space of fear.

I ask you now to consciously open your sacral chakra to our divine mother, the feminine principle that attracts to you the divinity of your power, the power that is the inspiration for your world and within your world. Our divine mother is your creativity. Every time you create you are honouring her, you are honouring your own inner divine goddess, the divine feminine that is as essential as the divine masculine.

Breathe in deeply expanding the energy of your sacral chakra to receive the light of the three grids. Your sacral chakra is connected to your subconscious mind, your subconscious is your divine feminine and works in one unity-consciousness with the sacral, as above so below. Your sacral chakra represents that which is below, your subconscious represents that which is above. It is the divine feminine that takes in everything that you impregnated it with through the conscious mind. Your conscious mind is your divine masculine which is represented through your base chakra. By honouring the sacredness of the power that is your divine feminine, you become acutely aware of how important it is to ensure that the conscious is seeding the subconscious with seeds of pristine intension. Therefore if your conscious mind focuses on fear, lack and loss, you are seeding your subconscious with those seeds and that is what the divine mother will deliver to you, for your seeds are held within gestation in the subconscious as well as your sacral chakra and the divine mother is your most loyal ally, for she gives you everything you believe in without fail. So the seeds of your belief systems become the reality of your life. Take a moment to bless the divine feminine inside of you through your sacral chakra extending it into your subconscious and make a commitment to yourself today that you will ensure that she is impregnated with only that which embodies pristine intension. Seeds that empower everyone. The divine mother honours what you believe you deserve. She will never ever give you anything less than what you believe you deserve. The new grids being woven through your 12 chakras will push you to examine all the aspects of your belief systems so that you can see the power of the divine feminine working in your life. Everything that you have manifested in your life to date, is based on what you believe and the seeds that you have planted in your subconscious. The consciousness embodies the belief systems in your sacral chakra.

Now keep the hand chakra on your left hand, on your sacral chakra and move the palm of your right hand to your base chakra. Open your energy to receive the blessings of our divine cosmic father, the masculine presence that is there as eternal support. The active part of all areas of life. This is your earth element. This is what grounds you to the earth. This is what ensures that everything that you have agreed to do in service manifests physically. By rejecting the base chakra and the sacral chakra it is impossible to manifest on earth that which you have created and secured within the heavens. Your base chakra is as important as your crown chakra. Your sacral chakra is as powerful and important as your third eye chakra. Your solar plexus is the seat of power which is expressed through your throat chakra and your heart merges and sustains all three above and below. Your base chakra is linked to your conscious mind. It is the active part of you. The part of you that impregnates the divine feminine. It is the part of you that actively responds to the divine inspiration that you have tuned into through your sacral chakra and through your subconscious.

I, Mary Magdalene assisted by your personal guides will work with you for the remainder of this day taking you through an advanced healing of the subconscious mind. For the next few days, approximately 7 days, you will experience of the falling away of the old paradigms that have been stored within the subconscious, offering you an opportunity to continue with a clean slate. Your ability to seed the subconscious will be amplified, intensified, and the time for it to come into manifestation will happen a lot quicker than what you are accustomed to in the past.

Take a deep breath in as you feel the light and support of all your personal guides and masters projecting energy to your base chakra. The energy of your base chakra now moves down your legs, into your feet, out through the soles of your feet rooting you firmly to mother earth. This energy extends to the very core of her being, uniting you as one, for when you are connected to mother earth, she too can support you in your physical reality by ensuring that you are safe, and that all your needs are honoured within her realm.

You are a divine being of power, a co-creator, you are a spark of light within the collective journey of life. You represent the sparks of love in which you were created. You are not meant to walk alone. Yes you are individual but you are all one. This sacred time is a time of merging the grids of unification consciousness so that all the sparks of love within the journey of life can come together and in so doing strengthening the power of love, and strengthening the life force and vitality of life, offering everyone a network of support, a grid of safety, a home in which all of you can co-create.

All the beings who are present with all of us will remain in this presence, holding the energy until all of that which you have agreed to do as a group is completed. I Mary Magdalene honour each of you for the journey you have chosen. And again I wish to remind you, you are remembering! It is safe for you to release your grid on your fears, to let go of all the old ways, all the old ways of doing things, and embrace this new way. I assure you, life will never be the same again, when you choose. So choose for your life never to be the same again.

The three grids that you are absorbing now, will dissolve over the next 72 hours, making way for the next level of the three grids to come into being. Their will be four levels all together, which you will absorb into your heart chakra all of which will merge with the 12 chakras. This will take place over a period of 14 days. This is now fully active in your energy field and will be completed. May each of you honour the truth that resides in you, that truth that lurks beneath the veils of illusion that you have adopted and the stories that you have bought into that do not represent the truth. May all of you be liberated in your desire to be what you were created to be. I am Mary Magdalene. Au Revoir.

I am Kuthumi, I return very briefly beloved ones, just to emphasise that what Mary Magdalene has conducted with you today is a process that you may not understand to its full extent however you will see the effects of this in your life over the next 18 months. There are still many new grids that shall come forth, leading up to the final portal of 2012 but what is most important is what you are doing with your life now, how you are living your life now.

I, Kuthumi, Cohan of the golden ray of love and wisdom will continue to be every present ensuring that each of you extract the wisdom from the lessons of life by applying love, by experiencing and accepting love. It is vital that you all recognise that the structures of the old world do not work and cannot serve in the new world. The old world is based on a completely different set of rules and laws that do not honour the greater wisdom of all that is. Many of the original laws were omitted. Now in the new earth new life grids, you will be exposed to the laws that you were denied in the past. And it is these laws, these principles, that will fuel your life resulting in greater expanded awareness, accelerated spiritual development at the same time the accelerated release of the lower ego. Therefore, anything embodying fear, or attachment to the old world, will dissolve. Whether you like it not! However the gifts of that will far outweigh any level of discomfort that you may feel at the time of the changes taking place.

So beloved ones we wish to thank all of you for making the choice to gather upon this day. Welcome the new life that you have now opened your heart to receive. The new journey you have said yes to. You are a leader. You are a light worker. You are everything that is and more because you are you. Unique, divine and powerful. And every single one of you embody a unique seed, one that no-one else carries, which is why your role is so important and your contribution in services is so important because when all those seeds are rooted and they take life, your earth will be re-ignited. May all that your soul requires at this time to ensure that you are fully liberated from the old paradigm come into being, under grace, in perfect, harmonious and miraculous ways. Look to those who walk your life path with you. Acknowledge the Christ within them, recognise their light, that your light shine through. Allow the higher purpose of soul ego to be your motivating force, for it shall show others, how to do the same. Be firm in the truth that you have chosen. May your boundaries be one of love. Do not be afraid to speak your truth when the voice of the old paradigm confronts you. Stand your ground and walk tall.

Trust in the many invisible arms that hold you knowing that there is not ever a moment that you walk alone, for we are all one, with you, always, in all ways. May the light of Father/Mother God shine brightly upon the path you have chosen, and may every step you take be a steady one.

I am Kuthumi, Cohan of the Golden Ray of Love and Wisdom. I greet and bless you in love. Adonai.
